WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Woman sufficients from sixteen states appealed to the Governors in conference at Annapolis, Md., yesterday for help in bringing about the passage of the Federal suffrage amendment. Governor Manning of South Carolina, moved that no resolutions be put before the convention. The statements given to the women were made by the Governors individually, and for the most part by men from states where suffrage has already been won

To Those Who Bought Red Cross Xmas Seals In Brooklyn

NO RED CROSS XMAS seals are being sold this year, because we are uniting with the RED CROSS XMAS ROLL CALL. Our anti-tuberculosis work next year will be assisted by an appropriation from the National RED CROSS in lieu of Xmas Seals money.

Last year the Xmas Seals money was used to provide milk and other food for children who were threatened with TUBERCULOSIS, for sanatorium care of first-stage cases, mostly children; for nursing the tubercular sick, for instructing families how to prevent TUBERCULOSIS, and for waging constant warfare against it through the public schools, churches, factories, "movies."

Next year the money will be used for the same purposes and for aiding soldiers and sailors who have been discharged from service on account of tuberculosis and for the prevention of TUBERGULOSIS on the part of those left exhausted by the recent INFLUENZA and pneumonia.

but in our opinion the title remains with Walter Hampden.

Visually, Mr. Leiber is perhaps the most satisfactory Hamlet of the season. He is at all times a compelling figure, but he does not read the rôle as well as Hampden or Mantell. In the more repressed passages he was effective, but at such times as it became necessary for the voice to blaze up Leiber's enunciation tended to become clouded. He found it difficult to be vehement and coherent at the same time. He also failed to develop the full sparkle and bite of the various brushes with Polonius in which Hampden does so well. It must be admitted, however, that Frank Peters did not begin to be as effective a foil as Albert Bruning the local holder of the Polonius title.

Since no less than three actors have played Hamlet here in the last forting the no review is adequate without a suggested rating. In our opinion Walter Hampden should stand at scratch in the metropolitan ratings, with Mantell receiving five strokes and Leiber six. Of course, it is impossible to the regular subscribers and the faithful guard behind the shining rails.
